

ABOUT THE ARTIST...

Brenda Barratt lived near Lindfield for many years and specialises in painting watercolour house portraits. She has also sold hundreds of Limited Edition Prints of her watercolours of Sussex schools and landscapes.

Brenda comes from a long line of professional artists and has been specialising in architecture for over 30 years. Her set of six Limited Edition Prints of Lindfield make ideal mementoes for those with fond memories of Sussex's finest village.

Prints are signed and numbered and presented in a classic double mount and a wood and gilt frame. Two frame sizes are available, the small is 16" x 12" and the larger 20" by 16". All have Certificates of Authenticity.

What accounts for the popularity of her watercolours? "They are unique, and compared with a photograph, a watercolour is kinder to the natural habitat," says Brenda. "For instance, when I painted these Lindfield views, I was blind to telegraph poles, power cables and TV aerials. I even removed the cars!"

LINDFIELD POND

Regardless of the time of year, Lindfield Pond always looks beautiful. It takes on different colours and attracts a variation of wildlife and fauna too depending on the season.

LINDFIELD POST OFFICE

Although the Post Office has relocated, this painting is popular as it serves as a good memory of having it on the corner of the High Street where many of us used to take our post, have a natter and buy our birthday cards.

LINDFIELD GREEN

This view across the green towards the pond gives the feel of what you see as you approach the centre of Lindfield. The people on the bench were chatting away happily and so I painted them in. If anyone recognises themselves, do identify yourself!

LINDFIELD HIGH STREET AND CHURCH

This pretty view up the High Street towards Lindfield Church has been brought by many people wishing to remember the church. Maybe their daughters, sons or friends have been married there and their children christened there too. It is a lovely church inside.

LINDFIELD GOLF CLUB

The newest addition. Lindfield Golf Club is set in picturesque countryside close to Haywards Heath and was founded in 1990 by Patrick Tallack. There are challenging holes, water hazards and testing bunkers to penalise the wayward.

LINDFIELD CRICKET CLUB

This is one of the oldest clubs in the county having been established in 1747 and is part of a long and proud history of cricket in Sussex. It has a strong profile of encouraging young boys and girls and has an academy of over 250 members.
